Alberta Goes Dry

Province Rolls Up Majority of Over 20,000 in Favor of the Liquor Act.

THE BAR HAS GOT TO GO.
Never, we should imagine, in their most sanguine moments did the supporters of the new Liquor Act imagine such a decisive verdict in its favor from the voters of this province as was given on Wednesday of this week. The result was more than remarkable—it was astounding—and leaves no doubt whatever as to the wishes and desires of the people of Alberta regarding the liquor business in this province.

The bar has got to go. The voice of the people is overwhelming against its continuance, and the only thing requiring now is to see, when it finally becomes law next July, that the new Liquor Act is strictly enforced in every particular.

The big feature of the voting on Wednesday was the big majority rolled up for the "Dries" in the range cities. Edmonton with a total vote of 12,000, had a majority of 3,000 in favor of the Act, and Calgary, with an equal total vote, had a majority of 3,000. Medicine Hat gave a majority of 127 for the "Dries," whilst Lethbridge gave a majority of 382 for the "wets." Altogether, Alberta recorded a majority of over 20,000 in favor of the Liquor Act.

In Bow Island, the poll was held in the L.O.O.F. hall, A. E. West, being the returning officer. In all 123 votes were cast, 58 being in favor of, and 65 against, the Act, the result being received in the evening with considerable enthusiasm.

Arrangements had been made to obtain returns from other portions of the province, and these were announced by H. S. Beattie from the L.O.O.F. hall.

The voting in Bow Island and the adjacent was as follows:

Seven Persons	73	50

Will Investigate Oil Companies.

For some time past the Department of the Attorney General has been making a general preliminary investigation into the affairs and methods of several oil companies. This investigation is being conducted with a view to ascertaining the facts in regard to the operations of these companies, and to determine whether or not they are justified in the Government in appointing a Commissioner to make a full and complete enquiry into three matters, under that Act respecting Enquiries into Public Matters. As a consequence, Judge Carpenter of the District Court has been appointed a Commissioner under that Act with power to inquire into and concerning the promotion, incorporation, management and operation of the various companies and stock exchanges in the Province.

Frank Hood, Esq., K.C., of Edmonton, has been appointed by the Government as advisory counsel to the Commissioner, an appointment, which in itself, should be sufficient guarantee of the Government's desire to make inquiry thorough.

We understand it is the Government that all assistance be given by the Public and to that end and so that we may be able to purge this valuable industry from wrongdoing and imposture. We are authorized to say that the Attorney General will be glad to receive any and all information which will assist him and further the subjects of the Commission. All such information should be sent direct to the Attorney General's department.

WE must be ready to make war in order to keep the blessings of peace," declared Lindley M. Garrison, secretary of war, at the Lake Mohawk arbitration conference. "The freedom of our people under our own institutions to develop and expand and make the most of themselves without fetters or restrictions to the very Arts of the Covenant to us, and if we are worthy to possess those institutions we must show that we cherish them and will protect and defend them."

The regular army of the United States consists of 47,011 officers and 371,781 men. Of these 118 officers and 17,461 men belong to the coast artillery and are therefore practically stationary and are coast defenses; 1,891 officers and 15,434 men belong to the staff, technical and noncommissioned branches of the army, including recruits and men engaged in recruiting. This leaves the army which can be moved from place to place—that is, the mobile army, so called—composed of 2,925 officers and 31,448 men.

Practically all the organizations in the army are on what is known as a peace footing, which means that as an infantry company, which upon a war footing should have 100 men, now has 40 men; a cavalry troop which upon a war footing should have 100 men, now has 70 men; an artillery battery, which upon a war footing should have 171 men, now has 122 men. The coast artillery companies are always kept on a war footing of 104 men each.

An result in continental United States the mobile army at the last report consisted of 2,435 officers and 29,402 men.

The organized militia of the various states totals 1,212 officers and 119,847 men. If all of the national guard and should all respond (an inconceivable result) and if they were all found fairly efficient in the first line—that is, the troops who would be expected immediately to take the field—we could summon a force in this country of reulars and national guard amounting to 5,111 officers and 133,451 men.

The National Security League, composed of some of the nation's most eminent men—such as Joseph H. Choate, Alton B. Parker and Henry L. Russell—has a record of this state of the national defenses, declared of the army that:

It is widely scattered and cannot be speedily mobilized.

It is short of officers.

It is short of ammunition.

It has no organized reserves.

That coast defenses are inadequate and fortifications insufficiently managed to provide for the emergency of a sudden call to war. The matter has been subject for study, experiment and debate ever since the civil war. As soon as Congress authorized the president to use the military power of the country the standing army of 20,000 men and, tactically, as it was, expands to millions by summoning recruits to fill out the skeleton companies and regiments in the maximum and the formation of new regiments.

The military system has been so centralized that there can be no hitch between state and federal powers. The state volunteers pass immediately under control of the federal power, and the president directs the formation of said armies, beginning with levies of men from divisions and these again army corps.

The proceedings of the Spanish-American war would be followed; that is to say, the raw regiments would gather in corps convenient to the coast either by rail or by water, and transportation facilities. The war maneuvers of the past few years have been practice maneuvers in mobilization as well as in strategy and tactics, and concentration of bodies will keep here with the formation of units ready for the front.

The volunteer act is designed to obviate all the trouble that was encountered at the beginning of the war with Spain, when strife among the volunteer organizations for assignment and the political influence exerted to influence the selection of units.

Under the act the president may call out the volunteer army by proclamation and disband it as soon as peace is formally declared.

Using the experience of the war in both northern and southern states, the military elements and noting the results in the European war, an expert estimate the actual military strength of the country at $400,000 to $500,000 the first year of war and $600,000 to $700,000 in three or four year contest.

It must be kept in mind that this estimate applies to men only and does not include the actual military strength of the country.

European countries which have suddenly called great armies to the field find themselves seriously handicapped in this respect.

The opinion of Major R. E. O'Hara, assistant in the chief of ordnance, is that the actual military strength of the country in securing ammunition as rapidly as might be needed.

ATTENTION TO LOOKS WILL REFRAY

There are a good many women who will spend hours over fancy work or the themselves out completely, fussing about the home or in cooking cakes and rich dainties that the family would be much healthier without and yet grudge as an utter waste of time ten or fifteen minutes a day spent in preserving their looks. Now, is this a

It is foolish to shut one's eyes to the fact that an attractive appearance is of immense advantage in dealing with the world in general as well as in keeping the devotion of one's friends and relatives. There is no reason why a woman in ordinary health cannot retain her good looks until she is quite old if she takes a little care of herself. In my opinion, the cause of so many women fading comparatively early in life is because they were too busy about other—and some of them not at all important—things to give this care.

If you want to keep young, don't neglect the bedtime toilet. Ten minutes of beauty treatment at night are worth twenty in the morning. During the day every woman develops a few wrinkles across the forehead and between the eyebrows and down the lines that run from the nose to the mouth. In warm water and mild soap, rinse the soap off carefully, dry the face and cover the lines with cold cream, rubbing it in lightly and allowing it to remain on the skin for a few minutes while you are brushing your hair and teeth.

Now begin to massage across the forehead in a semicircular direction, pressing quite hard and running the fingers always upward and taking them off at the downward stroke.

The easiest way to tone down the face, when wrinkles often run from the nose to the mouth, even in the face of quite young women, is to lie flat the cheeks with a little air and then massage hard across the lines.

Alternate this with a pinching motion, all the while keeping the cheeks inflated. All this should not occupy more than ten minutes. Now wipe the face with a soft towel to remove any of the cold cream that has not been absorbed, and give a cold water bath.

In the morning wash the face with cold water and soap, and then place where wrinkles are likely to come a little pure alcohol of denatured cologne. This acts as a tonic and prevents the skin from sagging; then slip on the face with a soft towel to remove any of the cold cream that has not been absorbed, and give a cold water bath.

Fresh air is a great healthful and tonic. This acts as a tonic and prevents the skin from sagging; then slip on the face with a soft towel to remove any of the cold cream that has not been absorbed, and give a cold water bath.

Keep outdoors as much as you can. Exercise. Don't overwork your eyes. If you are tired, or if you have this tendency to be careful of your diet and don't eat greasy food.

Italy Now Looms Large in Foreground of War

Photos by American Press Association.

IT is Italy that looms large now in the foreground of the European tragedy. Her entrance into the great conflict stirred through the world one of the deepest throes of the war.

Everywhere Catholics are thrilling for their beloved St. Peter's feast test its wondrous dome becomes a mark for hostile air men. Everywhere lovers of the beautiful are fearing lest Venice, the world's most beautiful city, should be destroyed. All over Italy there are tremors of the past which the Venice itself, never could be renewed.

But Italy is determined to unshrink the sword second confident that she could protect her borders. The masses who inspired the king, share his confidence. The fears felt outside Italy are unknown there. In their supreme moment the people have placed their entire trust in Victor Emmanuel, hold him to be the king they need at such a time and are assured that he will lead them to victory.

In Anzio, the Italian post, expressed the sentiments of all the countrymen when he declared his admiration for Victor Emmanuel and said:

"It would be impossible to imagine a better moment for him. On hearing his speech one might almost realize the impression of being in Paris conversing with a statesman thoroughly conversant with the subject from the French viewpoint; at others in Berlin talking with a minister of the German emperor or in London, in Vienna or Petrograd. The Balkans and eastern Mediterranean are so familiar to him that he might have lived there all his life. His lucidity of mind is extending and only surpassed by his unpretentious manner, which put one completely at ease. There is no man in the world, in addition to fulfilling the duties of state, could count so much knowledge and wisdom such a clear and certain perception of foreign countries, interests and men."

Moments of the same confidence was shown significantly from a far more eminent quarter when the pope refused to revive the sore old question of temporal power, removed all possible cause for friction between the Vatican and the Italian government and declined to shelter within the extra-territoriality of his court envoys from the nations with whom Italy was at war.

That Italy had prepared for taking up arms there can be no question. When she started ten months ago there were at least a million Italian workmen scattered through the hostile lands. The majority of them were actually in the war zone and were sent home only because of the need of her people in her fields and factories.

In addition there were those who had not emigrated. The stream of emigration from Italy to the United States and South America practically ceased with the war.

The aeroplane factories in Italy have been producing their maximum output for several months, some of them building duplicates of French and German aeroplanes, and partial deliveries have already been made of large orders placed in the United States.

Two well known American pilots, William G. Doherty and Lansing Child of Hammondport, N. Y., have been at Taranto since January, instructing Italian military pilots in the operation of flying boats of the American type.

Pittsburgh industries which make war material have had large Italian orders. Heavy purchases of horses have been made in this country. Numerous quantities of wheat have been imported from Argentina and the United States.

It is said that Italy will need no more grain for a year to come.

The spirit of the Italian people has been contracted for in the United States, and some of the cargoes have been delivered. Even with England as an ally Italy cannot afford to depend on Cardiff and Nevada for coal for her navy and her state railways.

Using the experience of the war in both northern and southern states, the military elements and noting the results in the European war, an expert estimate the actual military strength of the country at $400,000 to $500,000 the first year of war and $600,000 to $700,000 in three or four year contest.

It must be kept in mind that this estimate applies to men only and does not include the actual military strength of the country.

Farmers and Ranchers Should Not Dispose of Their Young Breeding Stock

There are thousands of acres of stock raising land in the immediate vicinity of the city of Los Angeles and in other districts that are immediately available for stock raising and feeding purposes. The stock raisers and progressive farmers who have money could get together and discuss this matter with the city officials. With the large packing house interests in the city, always some scheme could be worked out whereby the farmer in need of money could get the money he needs and at the same time the stock be retained for breeding purposes. It seems like a joke that the railway companies have been bringing in of breeding stock, and on the other hand, breeding stock is being sent out of the city.

The farmers are complaining, and

Dietetic Blended Meals

Blended Rations Based on C.P.R. Dining Car Adapted for the Traveler

"How much may a man eat on a train journey and still not have indigestion?" Such was the problem that Mr. W. A. Cooper, of the C.P.R., dining car system, and the healthiest of food, with the aid of Dr. Harvey Wiley, the well known specialist of the health department, has solved. For instance, in a recommended selection of foods for breakfast, lunch and supper, as the Imperial Hotel, London—Cereal with Cream, Fried Eggs with Roasted Bacon, Corn Starch, Coffee, etc.

According to Mr. Cooper, one needs on a train journey only about two-thirds of the quantity of food which would be assimilated while engaged in ordinary occupation at home. As the dining car is a place where the food is served on the train journey, this new scheme of "Dietetic Blended Meals" is therefore introduced not as the object of inducing travelers to spend more money, but to spend less. The object of the railway being to secure the healthiest and most economical travel. With each menu is presented a short list of the ingredients and the method of preparing them.

The four essential classes of food are proteins, or nitrogenous foods, the carbohydrates, such as sugar and starch, for fuel, such as oil and butter, and mineral matters, such as lime, phosphorus and phosphoric acid.

The dietetic blended foods on the Canadian Pacific dining cars, the menu are arranged so that the traveler, in a reasonable time, can get a meal which is dietetic, that is, nourishing and wholesome, and at the same time properly blended. This each of these blended rations will be found to be a nutritional need of the traveler and will, with any excess of the essential elements, be found to be a nutritional need of the traveler and will, with any excess of the essential elements, be found to be a nutritional need of the traveler.

Maleb.

Hon. C. R. Mitchell, M.P.P., and Dr. Boyd of Medicine Hat were callers at Maleb last week.

G. R. Bowen and sons have bought Mr. S. Edmond's engine.

Mrs. L. Branning and children are visiting her mother, Mrs. Mary Johnson, before joining her husband in the Peace River country.

Mr. A. W. Shaver returned home Tuesday for an indefinite time.

Mr. John Neil has had lots of gooseberries and currants on his place and now has strawberries. This shows that small fruits can be grown here successfully.

Mr. Dacres, Mrs. Reyna's father, left on Thursday to spend a few days in Edmonton. He will then return to his home in Quebec. Mr. Dacres thinks this is a pretty fine country.

The rain on Wednesday last prevented the big crowd expected coming to the Fertile Plains and Haycocks Union Sunday school picnic held at Thos. Gilson's place on the banks of the Forty-Mile Coulee. However, about forty or fifty people turned out in the afternoon and between baseball, foot races, jumping, etc., they all went home reporting a fine time.

Mrs. L. N. Sewell and son Clifford drove to Foremost Wednesday.

Mrs. Helen, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Goldschmidt, returned to her home in the States the seventh.

If the Southern Alberta farmers would turn out to the union meetings they might be able to have as good an organization as the grain growers in Saskatchewan. In unity is strength.

Mrs. Kathleen Stephenson and her mother were down in the coulee last week looking for berries. They report they are scarce and hard to get.

The farmers are beginning to realize that the Farmers' Elevator is a benefit to them. They lowered the price on wheat this year. Get their wholesale prices on fresh fruits, canned goods, etc. They are very reasonable.

Haycroft &amp; Selz.

Mar Benn & Co. and Mr. Ma line and sons have now reached a point on the main residence of T. C. Thompson, grading Bow Island north south road, sec. 26 5/11. The graders brought by Mr. Thompson, whose crops by the way are looking most superb.

The gophers are doing considerable damage to late sown oats on several farms.

There has been an almost superabundant rainfall in 8 1/2, as the many ponds of water along the roadside and in the field bear witness.

Mr. John Nikolas and Mrs. A. Gatz have prize potatoes, sunflower and corn crops in their gardens.

Mr. J. Delbert has the best appearing field of wheat south of his residence of any the writer has seen. For passage the neighboring coulee cannot be surpassed.

On southeast sec. 27, along the coulee banks, are croppings of lignite and many wells and abundant springs dot the bottom of the same coulee.

Some of the farmers (notably J. M. Delbert) carry big hitches of John Deere.

Mr. T. C. Thompson's fine horses are mercifully provided with a new nose device—showing laces to ward off flies. Mr. Thompson is now breaking and hitching eight of the large horses to one plow.

Thursday night in Haycocks school a big prohibition campaign meeting was held. The Rev. Chas. Bishop and Rev. Bina of Bow Island eloquently spoke on behalf of prohibition.

It is suggested that by way of a change the Haycocks Sunday school and public school join forces and hold their picnic on the banks of the Sask. atchewan. A couple of big hay macks covered comfortably with hay might be improvised for this purpose, and many of the little ones would enjoy seeing the historic river for the first time.

Thirty-three of the sixty-six voters of the district turned out Wednesday, and the day was won by the majority.

Mrs. Gilson and her family are mid-week visitors to Bow Island, returning with a big load of lumber.

No rain or fall fell in this district last night.

Chief Provisions of the Liquor Act

Concise Summary of the Legislation on which the People of Alberta voted on Wednesday.

That all liquor containing more than 24 per cent. alcohol shall be considered intoxicating liquor.

That it shall constitute an offence against the act for a person to have a quantity of liquor in his or her dwelling house exceeding one quart of spirits and two gallons of malt liquor.

That it is unlawful for persons living in apartments or in boarding houses, or anywhere other than in their own private dwelling houses, to have liquor on the premises. For the purpose of the act, any house where there are more than three lodgers other than the members of the family ceases to be a private dwelling house.

That vendors will be appointed by the government to sell liquor to those allowed to obtain it on affidavit. The vendors shall be salaried officials.

That the vendors shall not sell liquor to persons other than doctors, druggists, dentists, veterinary surgeons, clergymen, or those who wish to use it for scientific purposes. All such purchases are obtained after the swearing of an affidavit and a record is kept of them. The purchasers, in turn, must keep a full record of the disposition of the goods they receive.

A vendor may sell a druggist an amount of liquor not exceeding five gallons, a physician two, a dentist one pint, a veterinary surgeon one gallon, a clergyman two gallons, and to persons who can prove it is to be used for scientific purposes, alcohol to the extent of ten gallons.

That liquor manufactured and stored in this province may be shipped out of the province and from points outside to points inside. Liquor may be shipped in by individuals, with due regard to the quantity which they may lawfully keep on their premises, from outside the province or from foreign countries.

That the liquor manufactured in the province may not be sold within the province.

That the vendors shall sell for cash only.

That any person who allows drunkenness or disorderly conduct on his or her premises shall be liable for the punishment for such an offence.

That the burden of proving the right to have or keep or sell or give liquor shall be on the person accused of improperly or unlawfully having or keeping or selling or giving such liquor.

and families of the soldiers who fell in battle or were rendered a charge upon the country, pointing out that it was going to mean sacrifice on the part of all.

Dr. W. H. Macdonald followed and dealt with the Prohibition issue to be voted on the 21st.

Mr. Nelson Spencer, M.P.P., made a strong patriotic appeal and met with an enthusiastic reception. Mr. Spencer used the case for recruiting in very forcible language, making the statement that the man unwilling and without any special ties who would not volunteer for active service at a time like the present was not a desirable citizen for his country or for any other country. He hoped for a good response to the call from the young men of Winnipeg.

Mr. Spencer complimented the Winnipeg people on the possession of an Agricultural Society which was continuing its activities in the present year when many Agricultural Societies had ceased operations.

Mr. H. E. Flett dealt with local matters and particularly with an appeal for the support of the Winnipeg people to the Agricultural Society.

Taber's tax rate has been fixed at 42 mills. This year's rate is an increase of 12 mills in the tax rate, but as the assessment generally was reduced pretty nearly half, it will leave the taxes at about the same as last year, if not a little lower.

The installation of officers of Golden Link (Rebekah) Lodge took place on Friday last as follows:—N.G., Sister Brown; V.G., Sister Beattie; Secretary, Sister E. Burton; Treas., Sister Ludlake; Warden, Sister Fuller; Conductor, Sister Oliver; R.S.V.G., Sister Cotton; L.S.V.G., Sister Cousins; I.G. Sister Lalney; O.G., Bro. Swanson; Organist, Bro. Jamieson.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Annan, who live north of Bow Island, have recently received a letter from their son at Shorncliffe, England, who left with a contingent from Fernie and Coal Creek some time ago. At the time of their departure he had a detachment numbered 54 and of these only three are now left. The casualties were mostly a strain of the British forces lost so heavily. Mr. Annan's son was sent from France to England in charge of a number of German prisoners, and at the time of writing he was expecting to leave for the front again. In his letter he states the Germans mounted a large number of the Canadian wounded and mailed three of them to barracks.

YOU WANT GOOD PRINTING

HIGH-CLASS PRINTING can only be executed in offices where there is first-class machinery and the most modern type. The Review has recently installed an entirely new series of type, bringing the office equipment to a point where it can successfully compete with the larger establishments in other places. The Bow Island Review now has a plant that is a credit to the town in which it is established and it is no exaggeration to say that its equal cannot be found in no other town (of a similar size to ours) in Alberta.
